

SARCASM

: when someone says THE OPPOSITE to what they are really thinking.
You should RESPOND to what you guess the person is THINKING
... NOT to what they have SAID.

SARCASM should be used in a friendly, joking way, but some people use it to be rude or nasty.

...but one day, the wind messed his hair up.

He didn't know it, but his hair looked VERY SILLY!

Usually, Carl's hair looks like this...

Your hair looks so CRAZY!

Hey, NICE hair!

Only USE sarcasm with people that you know well. Be careful using it with people older than you. They might think you are being rude.

Nicole is wearing her new high-heels.

I think you need some higher heels!

WHOA! Those heels are too high!

Mum laughs when she sees her son's face. He has food all over it!

Your face is so dirty!

Look at your clean little face!

Paul is meeting Jasmine's dog for the first time.

It is such a small and friendly dog!

Ooh he looks like a guard dog!

Activity:

1. Discuss how you would know if someone was being sarcastic versus honest.
2. Think of a good response to the sarcastic comment for each of the above.
